Publications

- "Anti-Capitalist Muslims: How to Be Muslim and Anti-Capitalist at the Same Time?" published in IPSA 2016 24th World Congress of Political Science
This article aims to respond to a question regarding the "Antikapitalist Müslümanlar" (Anti-Capitalist Muslims), a movement of young Turkish Islamists that has gained public visibility, first through the May 1 protests in 2012 and then with the Gezi Park protests of 2013, namely as a new social movement raised upon both religious and political dimensions, what may Anti-Capitalist Muslims put forth in terms of understanding the world of inequality? On the basis of fieldwork and interviews held with members of the movement and certain participatory observations in İstanbul,

Turkey in 2013, this article seeks to analyze the “Antikapitalist Müslümanlar” movement in three dimensions: its structure, ideology and mode of action.
